

3-2017

Hayley Breshears Senior Interior Design Exhibit 2017

Hayley Breshears

Stephen F Austin State University, haybre@live.com

Follow this and additional works at: http://scholarworks.sfasu.edu/interior\_design\_projects

Part of the Interior Architecture Commons

Tell us how this article helped you.

---

Repository Citation

Breshears, Hayley, "Hayley Breshears Senior Interior Design Exhibit 2017" (2017). Interior Design Senior Projects. 35.
http://scholarworks.sfasu.edu/interior\_design\_projects/35

This Project is brought to you for free and open access by the School of Human Sciences at SFA ScholarWorks. It has been accepted for inclusion in Interior Design Senior Projects by an authorized administrator of SFA ScholarWorks. For more information, please contact cdsscholarworks@sfasu.edu.

MY DESIGN PHILOSOPHY

Midway through my college career, I began working as an assistant to an Independent Living Specialist. He is very active in assisting disabled individuals find and receive the resources they need to live independently. He had me drawing floor plans to show his disabled clients how to follow the concept of “Aging in Place.” The concept basically means that a home should function for the length of a life, childhood to old age. By incorporating simple elements such as 3-foot doors, walls enforced for handrails, and at least one entrance without a step you can eliminate some people’s need for a nursing home later in life. As time went on and I met more and more people spending thousands of dollars renovating their homes for newly injured loved ones, I found accessible design to be a passion of mine and I hope to incorporate it in everything I do.