Black Soldiers in Jim Crow Texas, 1899–1917

Garna L. Christian

This volume fully chronicles for the first time the clashes between black infantry and cavalry members and the civilian communities in Texas. Using previously untapped primary sources, the author reveals the complex dynamic that developed among the races. 256 pp. 16 b&w photos. 8 line drawings. $35.00

The Caddo Indians

Tribes at the Convergence of Empires, 1542–1854

F. Todd Smith

Tracing the history of Caddo relationships with European settlers and even the confederacies among the Caddo peoples, the author describes three centuries of diplomacy that ultimately resulted in defeat and resettlement on the Brazos Reserve. 256 pp. 6 maps. $24.50

The Chief Executives of Texas

From Stephen F. Austin to John B. Connally, Jr.

Kenneth E. Hendrickson, Jr.

In this convenient and somewhat irreverent reference work on the now deceased chiefs of Texas government, a short biography describes each leader's personality, personal life, and political career and includes an honest assessment of accomplishments and faults. 272 pp. 44 b&w photos. $29.50

Torpedoes in the Gulf

Galveston and the U-Boats, 1942–1943

Melanie Wiggins

The author of They Made Their Own Law relates how Galveston reacted to the news that German subs were sinking merchant ships off the Gulf Coast. Interviews with former U-boat captains provide the other side of the story. 256 pp. 32 photos. 1 map. $29.50 cloth; $14.95 paper
