FOREWORD

The Bureau of Business Research of The University of Texas is pleased to cooperate with the School of Forestry of Stephen F. Austin State College in the publication of this Directory of Wood-Using and Related Industries in East Texas. This special directory will serve as a supplement to the Directory of Texas Manufacturers published annually by the Bureau of Business Research.

Information for the directory was compiled by Dr. Nelson T. Samson, forest economist, School of Forestry, Stephen F. Austin State College. Miss Florence Escott, assistant to the director of the Bureau of Business Research, The University of Texas, supervised the publication with assistance from Mrs. Doris Dismuke, Mrs. Mary Gorham, Miss Betty Sue Hoch, Mrs. Binnie McCreary, and Mrs. Elizabeth Snoddy.

PREFACE

The wood-using and related industries of East Texas are important factors in the economic makeup of the state of Texas. While the timber resource is limited principally to the East Texas counties, the economic impact of its growth, sale, manufacture, and income production has a profound influence upon the remainder of the state. Inquiries received from company representatives, foresters, equipment manufacturers, chambers of commerce, and others associated with the wood-using industries have made it increasingly clear that a directory of the type presented here has a definite function to perform.

Though a determined effort was made to locate all active organizations, some may have been overlooked accidentally. Failure to list a firm, therefore, is no reflection upon its activities, and inclusion does not constitute an endorsement. The author would appreciate notification of omissions or errors so that future directories can be of greater service to the people and the industries of Texas.

Particular thanks are due to the Texas Forest Service for their splendid cooperation, to the Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology at Texas A&M University for their help with the sawmill listings, to the Bureau of Business Research of The University of Texas for their support and assistance, and to Stephen F. Austin State College for making the time available to complete this undertaking. Special thanks are due Miss Florence Escott of the Bureau of Business Research, The University of Texas, for her patience, understanding, and unstinting cooperation.

HOW TO USE THE DIRECTORY

The Directory of Wood-Using and Related Industries in East Texas is divided into three sections:

1. Geographical Section
2. Product Section
3. Product Index

The Geographical Section is arranged alphabetically by cities. Under each city the plants are listed alphabetically by firm name. The cities in each of the metropolitan areas, as designated in the 1960 Census and as revised in 1965, are grouped alphabetically with the chief city of the area. Each city is also cross-indexed in its proper alphabetical location.

The county in which each city is located appears with the city name heading. If the plant is located outside the city to which mail is directed, the name of the actual city location is given in parentheses following the name of the plant. The Zip Code follows the mailing address, and the employee group code is given in parentheses after the Zip Code. The following employee groups are used:

Group 1 - under 8	6 - 250 to 499
2 - 8 to 24	7 - 500 to 999
3 - 25 to 49	8 - 1,000 to 4,999
4 - 50 to 99	9 - 5,000 and over
5 - 100 to 249

The product classification used in the Directory is based on the latest revised Standard Industrial Classification compiled and published by the Bureau of the Budget, Executive Office of the President. Some modifications have been made in order to provide additional detail. The codes used at the end of each listing can be identified in Section 3, Product Index.
