

Costume Designs

The School for Scandal

Playwright: Richard Brinsley Sheridan
 Rose Downing, School of Theatre
 Stephen F. Austin State University
 Faculty Sponsor: Angela Bacarisse

The School for Scandal was our final project in Costume Design. All semester we learned how to document, research, and design plays; this project summed up all we learned in the class.

This play is a comedy of manners. It makes fun of the upper class society of the 1770's, when it was written. There is a group that essentially messes with the other characters, causing problems. It is because of this that I decided I could move the play's time to be set in the 1920's. Charles Surface, who is a gambler and drinker in the original, was turned into a mobster. Lady Teazle, who is the frivolous young wife of Sir Peter, fits perfectly into the image of the flapper.

My research covered all of the 1920's. I made sure I had at least two reference images and one color palette image for each character. This allowed me to have a unique outfit for every character even the men who are wearing suits. All of my colors are bright and fairly saturated since it is a comedy work. I wanted all the outfits to express each person's feelings and intentions through the era of the twenties.

Bibliography

Batterberry, Michael, and Ariane Ruskin Batterberry. Fashion the Mirror of History. London: Columbus, 1982. Print.

Blum, Stella. Everyday Fashions of the Twenties: as Pictured in Sears and Other Catalogs. New York: Dover, 1981. Print.

Herald, Jacqueline. The 1920s. London: Batsford, 1991. Print.

Peacock, John. The 1920s. London: Thames and Hudson, 1997. Print.

Peacock, John. Fashion Sketchbook, 1920-1960. London: Thames and Hudson, 1977. Print.

