

Bright Ideas Conference April 2008
Linda Reynolds, East Texas Research Center

Archives have gained recent attention in movies and news articles with movies like The Mummy and National Treasure and an article in the New York Times that describes the next generation of archivists as being young and attractive. Archives also share a connection with the media by providing material to assist media professionals in digging into the lives of famous individuals. Steen library's East Texas Research Center has provided this type of assistance for the recent movie, Charlie Wilson's War. Learn about the collections of politician Charlie Wilson and how archives are staying relevant by offering material and contributing to the production of movies, documentaries, and news programs.

Archives In Films

Archives have gained recent attention in movies (National Treasure) and news articles that describe the next generation of archivists as being young and attractive. Archives also share a connection with the media by providing material to assist media professionals in digging into the lives of famous individuals.

Archives In Films

Steen Library's East Texas Research Center has provided this type of assistance for the recent movie, Charlie Wilson's War. Universal Studios used photographs from the ETRC to produce props and publicity material for the movie.

