How to Become Involved with the United States Olympic Committee

Megan Ervin, Senior
Perkins College of Education
Department of Kinesiology and Health Science Department

Athletic Training “encompasses the prevention, diagnosis, and intervention of emergency, acute, and chronic medical conditions involving impairment, functional limitations, and disabilities.”

In order to become an Athletic Trainer, one must
- complete an entry-level Commission on Accreditation of Athletic Training Education accredited program
- pass the Board of Certification (BOC) national exam

Sports housed at the Chula Vista Olympic Training Center include Archery, Biathlon, BMX, Bobsled, Canoe/Kayak, Cycling, Field Hockey, Luge, Rowing, Rugby, Skeleton, Skiing/Snowboard, Soccer, Softball, Speed Skating, Swimming, Track and Field, Triathlon, Volleyball, Water Polo and various Paralympic and Pan American Sports

Steps to Apply for an Internship
- be enrolled in an undergraduate or graduate degree program at an accredited university in the US
- have completed two years of college before the start of the internship
- submit a resume, cover letter, and optional letters of recommendation to the USOC

Pathway to Olympic Games

Uncertified Student
Internships
- Broadcasting
- Marketing
- PR/Journalism
- Sports Medicine
- Strength and Conditioning
and MANY MORE!

Allied Health Professional
Volunteer Program
- Physician
- Physical Therapist
- Chiropractor
- Athletic Trainer
- Massage Therapist

Pending a performance review, a recommendation to continue or discontinue working with USOC will be made. A positive review could result in working a national / international event with a team, or even as high as the Olympic Games.

Union Cycliste Internationale BMX Supercross World Cup Competition included 140 Elite men and 32 Elite women from 21 countries. September 17-19, 2010

Like our athletes, we hold ourselves to a higher standard of excellence. We’re serious, but we have fun. In fact this is the most fun you can imagine having that’s still called “work.” It’s time to play.
Game on.