as the 1998 recipient of the

LUCILLE TERRY HISTORIC PRESERVATION AWARD

Co-sponsored by the East Texas Historical Association and the Texas Forestry Museum, the annual award honors Mrs. Lucille Terry who was instrumental in the restoration of many historic homes and public buildings in Jefferson. Since 1986 the award has honored individuals and groups in the East Texas area for their contribution to the preservation of historic collections, properties, and structures. The award consists of a bronze sculpture, 12" long by 18" wide, by Diboll artist Buck Cheavens, of an East Texas dogtrot cabin.

Recorded Texas Historic Landmarks must reflect the authenticity of historic exteriors, but the Terry Award encompasses interiors, decor, public accessibility, educational value, and community involvement.
